The VXi Tria is the single headset solution that gives users a multiple choice.

The convertible headset that fits every user.

The VXi Tria is the single headset solution that gives users a multiple choice. Tria's selection of three wearing styles makes it easy for buyers and supervisors and perfect for any user preference. Whether you like a headband, neckband or earhook, or like to alternate between all three options, Tria gives you the choice you want. But that's not all you get with Tria. Like all VXi headsets, Tria is equipped with high-performance, noise-canceling microphones and high-quality speakers, for dependable, professional-grade communications on both ends of the call. And though they're all-day comfortable and lightweight, Tria headsets are also durably constructed, ready to handle day-after-day use in contact centers and offices. All of which makes Tria a reliable and cost-effective solution for any organization that depends on their headsets for clear, consistent communications.

VXi Tria convertible headsets are available with VXi, Plantronics® and GN Netcom®/Jabra® compatible quick-disconnect styles, so they will easily integrate with your current equipment base. For phones with built-in headset ports, direct-connect versions are also available.
